

Military Academy Nominations Frequently Asked Questions

What are the basic eligibility requirements?

Each applicant for a nomination must meet the following eligibility requirements as of July 1st of the year of admission to an academy:

- Age: Be at least 17 years old, but not have passed their 23rd birthday
- Citizenship: Must be a U.S. citizen
- Marital Status: Must be unmarried, not pregnant, and without legal obligation to support children or other dependents
- Residence: In order to receive a nomination from Congressman Cartwright, applicant must have a legal residence within the boundaries of the 8th Congressional District of Pennsylvania

What is a nomination?

Members of Congress may nominate applicants who meet the eligibility requirements established by law. A candidate may seek a nomination from the following:

- Skill / Fitness: Must meet the medical, physical, and academic requirements of the Academy

- A member of the U.S. House of Representatives who represents the congressional district in which the candidate resides
- Both U.S. Senators from his or her state
- The Vice President of the United States

It is in your best interest to request a nomination from any source for which you are eligible.

If you are currently serving in the military or are the son or daughter of a career military member or service-connected disabled veteran, you may also seek a “service-connected” slot through your chain of command or directly from the Academy. Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) members may also seek nominations through their chain of command. Additional information regarding these nomination types is available directly from the Academies.

What is the difference between a nomination and an appointment?

A nomination is the authority from a nominating source (see above) for a candidate to be considered for entrance by an academy. An appointment is the actual slot for admission from the candidate’s preferred academy.

No. Although many of the qualifications are similar, each academy operates under its own admissions guidelines. It is not necessary to seek a nomination to the U.S. Coast Guard Academy, as the USCGA accepts candidates based on their own testing criteria.

When will I know if I have been offered an appointment by an academy?

Academies will begin to notify candidates of their admission status in February. All offers of appointment are generally sent out by May. Several academies offer rolling appointments, and you may know as early as October or as late as May if you are receiving an appointment.

Can you explain the number of appointments and slots available each year to Congressman Cartwright?

Each member of Congress is given 5 slots for each of three academies (West Point, the Naval Academy, and the Air Force Academy). For each slot that is open, Congressman Cartwright can nominate up to ten candidates. Thus, if Congressman Cartwright had four slots open and wished to fill all of them, he could nominate 40 students. The number of slots available (and thus, the number of students that Congressman Cartwright can nominate) varies each year. Please note that Congressman Cartwright does not have to fill all or even any of the open slots. The Merchant Marine Academy grants 10 slots per member of Congress.
